Election Needed to Annex Narrow Strip of County

Both Torrance and Redondo Beach will be blocked in their efforts to snatch a piece of county territory lying between the two cities, Torrance City Council was told last week by City Attorney James M. Hall.

Hall informed the councilmen that he had made a survey which indicates that more than 12 registered voters reside within the 250-foot wide strip which Torrance had planned to annex.

Torrance made its move to block an effort by Redondo to annex the entire area west of Hawthorne ave. between Torrance and Del Amo blvds.

A vote of the residents of the areas proposed for annexation would be required, Hall declared. Both Torrance and Redondo have

Would Make Street A Principal Arterial

The City Council Tuesday night asked the state to help in a program to make Arlington Avenue a through thoroughfare crossing the downtown business section of Torrance.

In approving certain other state highway proposals, the Council moved to ask the state to extend and improve Arlington from its terminus at Imperial Highway to the Torrance city boundary and to aid in making it a through street here.

The plan, proposed recently by Councilman Nick Drale, has received the enthusiastic support of local businessmen, city officials, and civic-minded citizens.

Mayor Mervin Schwab last week appointed a committee to study the Drale proposal. Named as chairman was Paul Loranger, prominent businessman. Others on the committee are former mayor Bob Haggard, Howard J. Percy, president of the local realty board, and the Council's street commission, consisting of Drale, Schwab, and Councilman Victor E. Benstead.

The committee is slated to meet this week to begin an investigation of the feasibility of opening the arterial.

Arlington ave. now ends at 190th st. It resumes at 203rd st., and runs into Border ave. at approximately 211th st. Border ave. in turn runs into Cabrillo ave., which 2

Traveler to Address Club Meet Tonight

Torrance Rotary Club members this evening will hear a description of one of the West's most colorful scenic areas by Col. H. C. Anderson, traveling lecturer for Union Pacific railroad.

He will describe for Rotarians "The Alps of America—the Grand Tetons and Jackson Hole Country of Wyoming—" at 6:30 p.m. at the Torrance Women's Club, 1422 Engracia Ave.

A westerner who knows and loves the great American West, Colonel Anderson each summer, with a battery of cameras, travels that area and spends the rest of the year describing and showing its scenic grandeur.

As a lecturer for Union Pacific, he visits nearly every state in the country—and, with radio and television appearances, talks to millions of people.

Before joining the railroad, he was secretary-manager of the Wyoming Commerce and Industry Commission.

Colonel Anderson's formal education was at the University of Minnesota. He spent seven years in military service with the 65th Division and was elected president of the Division Association. He is a colonel in the Air Force Reserve.

Red Cross Speakers

W. A. Felker, chairman of Torrance Branch of American Red Cross, announced this week that speakers are available to every club and organization in the city of Torrance to better acquaint their members and friends with the "Gamma Globulin for Polio" drive and the annual fund campaign which kicks off on March 2.

to disassociate herself professionally from her sister, who has retired from show business. The girls are blondes, but Lyn is now seeking her own career as a red-head. She admitted it isn't easy to get producers to think of her as a single personality.

"It has always been this way," she said. "Our mother always dressed us alike and in the same way."
